

Application for Exemption for American Indians and Alaska Natives and Other Individuals who are Eligible to Receive Services from an Indian Health Care Provider

Use this application to apply for an exemption from the shared responsibility payment

- Every person needs to have health coverage or make a payment on their federal income tax return called the “shared responsibility payment.”
- Some people are exempt from making this payment. This application includes two categories of exemptions for American Indians and Alaska Natives. There are other applications for other categories of exemptions. You may apply for certain other categories of exemptions when you file your federal income tax return.
- You can also ask the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) for these exemptions when you file your federal income tax return instead of completing this application.
- You don’t need to apply for an exemption if you’re not going to file a federal income tax return. If you’re not sure you’ll file a tax return, you may want to apply for an exemption anyway.

Who can use this application?

- Use this application if you and/or anyone in your tax household is:
 - A member of a federally recognized tribe or Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA) Corporation shareholder.
 - An individual who’s eligible for health services through the Indian Health Service, tribes and tribal organizations, or urban Indian organizations.
- You only need to apply once to get the lifetime exemption, unless your membership or eligibility for services from an Indian health care provider ends.
- Use one application for everyone you will include on your federal income tax return. Any member of your household who files his or her own tax return will need to submit his or her own exemption application.

What you need to apply

- Each person who wants this exemption needs to provide documents showing tribal membership, Alaska Native corporation shareholder status, or eligibility for services from the Indian Health Service, a tribal health care provider, or an urban Indian health care provider (see page 5).
- Copy both sides of any cards and all pages of the documentation you provide with this application.
- Social Security Numbers (SSNs), if you have them.

Why do we ask for this information?

We ask for Social Security Numbers and other information to make sure your exemption is counted when you file your federal income tax return. We’ll keep all the information you give private and secure, as required by law. To view the Privacy Act Statement, go to HealthCare.gov or see instructions.

STEP 2: Tell us about your tax household.

Who do you need to include on this application?

You need to complete Step 2 for every person in your household who is on the same federal income tax return. If the person doesn't want an exemption, just answer questions 1-7 of Step 2.

For Person 1:

Person 1 must be an adult who files a federal income tax return in your household, even if they don't want an exemption.

For Person 2:

Person 2 can be either:

- A spouse who files taxes jointly with Person 1.
- Anyone that Person 1 claims as a dependent on the same tax return.

Who not to include:

- A spouse who files taxes separately. Spouses who file separately need to fill out a separate application for themselves and for each person they claim on their tax return.
- Anyone who lives with you but who isn't listed on your tax return. Each person who needs an exemption must be on an application with the person who lists them on a tax return.

If you don't plan to file taxes, you don't need to apply for an exemption.

You'll get an eligibility determination letter in the mail after your application is processed. If you get this exemption, we'll give you an Exemption Certificate Number (ECN) with your approval letter. Keep the letter for your records. You'll need to put this number on your federal income tax return at the time you file taxes.

We'll keep all the information you provide private and secure, as required by law. We'll use personal information only to check if you're eligible for an exemption.
